

Preamble

I love my God and I love my country. But somewhere between the founding of our nation and 1962, there was a radical disconnect. Our country has belied its highest ideals which were based upon the natural law and the Scriptures. In section one, we will take a look at a nation born. In section two, we will explore a nation in decay. In Section 3, we will lay out strategies for a nation to be born again.

“If my people who are called by my name will humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and will heal their nation” (2 Chron 7:14).

Twin Towers

When terrorists attacked the twin towers, our people rose in a tremendous display of prayer and patriotism. However, a new and more deadly terrorism was underway. America had fallen from its roots. We were no longer God-centered, life-centered, family-centered, decency-centered. Our media was predominately biased, as Bernie Goldberg said in his best-selling book, Bias -- a book which clearly exposes the American media as anti-God, anti-Christian, anti-Catholic, anti-family, anti-life, and anti-American. George Washington pointed out that anyone who would attack the twin pillars of America -- religion and morality -- could not possibly be a loyal patriot.

Elections 202

The New York Times had a front page article right after the recent elections (Nov. '02) that bemoaned the fact that neither major party had a real vision for America. For without God's vision, people perish. Almost no politician raised real issues affecting our country that we are in so many ways really a nation under God, that secular humanism and new age thinking affects millions and millions of our fellow citizens, that half the country no longer honors the sanctity of human life, that promiscuity, divorce, obscenity, and violence are mainstream, that over 90 percent of our youth are sexually exploited and abused in one way or another before they reach the age of 18, that families are breaking down at a catastrophic speed, that younger and younger children are being vulgarized, that our public schools are in a state of moral meltdown, that SAT scores in general are down more than 100 points, that socially-transmitted diseases are rampant, that our media is increasingly more pagan, biased, pornographic, and dishonest.

The End of a Dream

The God-given American dream in many ways is coming to an end. Humanistic ideas are ruining our nation. If this nation or any nation so conceived and so dedicated can long endure, we have to return to the God-given vision of America.

The Dirty Dozen

Please read the 12 principles that made America great and then compared them to the 12 principles that are leading our country to ruin; and then ask yourself honestly, which America is better - the America that existed from 1776 to 1962 as a nation under God wherein pornography, abortion, public obscenity were outlawed, where each public school child said the Our Father publicly and said the Ten Commandments, where you had prayer and moral formation in every classroom, where a minister, priest or rabbi said the invocation at every graduation, where every youngster had a dress code, and where the biggest problems were chewing gum, tardiness, and an occasional truancy. Or, this new liberal America that separates God from state and in so doing separates moral teaching from education, where 50 percent of the student body in most public high schools never graduates, where pregnancy, social diseases, drugs, alcohol, and obscenity are affecting the highest percentage of our children
